

As citizens we have the right to enjoy our privacy when we are in the comfort of our homes. Being intruded upon by unwanted phone calls is wrong. Marketers may still advertise through all the other mediums which we may decide to engage in or not. It should be our choice. Picking up the phone and being annoyed by unwanted telemarketers is unacceptable especially when I have opted for an unlisted phone number.

It is imperative that we are supported in this.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Debra A. Cirello
